Location
The Rockin’ River Ranch is located in Yavapai County in central Arizona near Camp Verde. Camp Verde is centrally located approximately ninety miles north of Phoenix the State Capital. Communities within an hour drive include Sedona, which is 30 miles north of Camp Verde, Flagstaff, which is 50 miles north, and Prescott, the Yavapai County Seat, which is approximately 40 miles west of Camp Verde. The Ranch is located along the Verde River near the base of Squaw Peak.

Property Description
The Rockin’ River Ranch is a horse ranch and retreat along the southwest banks of the Verde River. It contains 209± acres deeded and an 880± Acre U.S. Forest Grazing Permit. The property is currently operating as a horse ranch and recreational retreat. The deeded land consists of approximately 54 acres of flood-irrigated fields that have been divided into six pastures. The balance of the property is utilized for building sites, riparian/river and open rangeland. The buildings include a large main dwelling/lodge, an owners dwelling, a managers dwelling, a bunkhouse, two horse barns, a tack room, a storage building and a shop. There is also a new building under construction that will include an office, two apartments, and public restrooms. Also included is a large roping arena with announcer stand, shipping corrals, a round pen and a hot walker. The grounds are beautifully landscaped with large grass areas with pine and cottonwood trees as well as abundant riparian and other natural desert vegetation.
Climate

The Verde Valley has a semi-arid climate with the majority of rainfall occurring during July and August. Rainfall averages approximately 12 inches annually. Summers are characterized by warm days and cool nights. During July and August, temperatures often range from the low sixties in the mornings to afternoon temperatures in the upper nineties. The winters are characterized by mild days, often rising to the high fifties or low sixties in the early afternoon. Winter nights can be cold, with early morning minimum temperatures typically in the low thirties.

Comments               The Rockin' River Ranch is an extremely rare find in Arizona. There are very few large horse properties left in the Verde Valley and with over a mile of frontage on the Verde River this property is truly unique. The location is ideal it is just over an hour from north Phoenix and Scottsdale and thirty minutes from the red rocks of Sedona. While scenic setting offers privacy as well as access to some of Arizona's spectacular wilderness areas and historical sites. This is an exquisite horse ranch and retreat that potentially could be utilized for a bed and breakfast and commercial horse boarding facility or it would make a beautiful year round home. All of these assets make the Rockin' River Ranch a great investment opportunity.
